Xiuhtezcatl Martinez wants to stop the destruction of Planet Earth. He expects to address the issue of pesticides, the pollution brought by plastic bags and the dangers of fracking. Moreover, he worked with his county commissioners and his city council. Together, they put an end to the use of harmful pesticides in parks and implemented a fee on plastic bags. Then, they worked on a ban on fracking. He also educated people on ecological matters on a worldwide scale and made people plant trees. He claims we should unite and get involved in ecological causes to alter the bleak destiny of the planet.

The photo shows Daryl Hannah, a renowned and good-looking Hollywood actress, with her hand covered in black crude oil standing in front of a background full of nature. Her gesture explicitly demonstrates that we should stop the use of oil products to preserve the natural world. Daryl Hannah embodies glamour and beauty and deliberately uses her image to convey a convincing ecological message. The contrast between her natural beauty and her hand covered in black crude oil speaks volumes about the fact that it is a harmful pollutant that ruins the beauty and the health of the planet.
